

POSITION VACANCY
Westminster College

Adjunct Professor of Harp

Westminster College (New Wilmington, PA) invites applications for the Adjunct Professor of Harp position to begin August 1, 2024. This position is a part-time, non-tenure-track position in Music.

Rank: Adjunct Professor. The successful candidate will teach undergraduate applied lessons in harp. Additional teaching may be assigned based on the candidate's strengths, availability, and School of Music needs.

A master's degree in music and prior experience teaching applied harp lessons at varying levels is required. Experience performing harp in professional music settings is preferred.
Initial screening application deadline: April 26, 2024.

Applicants should submit a resume to Dr. Tim Winfield, Chair, School of Music at winfield@westminster.edu

Westminster College is an Equal Opportunity Employer, enhancing learning through diversity and inclusion.